rning sensation at the pit of the stomach.

Pain in the pit of the siomach, or towards the right side,
Sallowiness of complexion,
Depression of spirits, and irritability of temper, &c.
If a case of dyspepsia should be neglected, most serious effects may ensure, for it lays the foundation for, is the incipient cause of, and very frequently terminates in censumption. I would tapress upon the mind thetto trifle with this disease, may be to sport with that reason which constitutes man super comment among animal heighs, or to embitter existence by adding a consciousness of folly to the penalty of pain.

This medicule is prepared entirely from vegetable substances; the most delicate stomach can bear it conveniently, and it is given with perfect safety, an infinite doses to the most tender infants, its properties being of a strengthening and invigorating nature. It is nearly put up in bottles, with ample directions for use.

That following testimonicals from some well known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully corroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti-Dyspepuc Elizir.

Attostation.

We having used William's Anti-Dyspeptic Effair with the most perfect satisfaction and success, take great pleasure in recommending it to all persons suffering with Dyspepsia, as we are fully convinced of its most estimated qualities in restoring the digestive powers, removing all pain and uneasiness, and imputing a healthy tone to the stomach.

Testimony of Mr. Michael Onni, Superintendent of the Philadelphia Exchange, corroborative of the efficacy of William's Anti Dyspeptic Elixir.

Hootor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been inside to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I heen more distressingly afflicted with its symptoma, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, aerous irritability, despondency, a sense of weight in the stomach, and severe pains in the left aide, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortunately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left nia, and appetite, with mental and bodity health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost nirraculous, and my object in writing to you us—a hope that other persons suffering the missies of Dyspepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.

I am, dear err, youre truly.

LOUISVILLE TIMES.

INN O. BUGGARIN & JUHN C. NUBLE. EDITOR CITY OF LOUISVII.LE. ...JANUARY 7, 1857

The infamous conduct of the Louisville Journal in advising the Fillmore men of ludiane to vote for the Republican or Abolition caudidate for Governor in October last, is beginning to give the editor no little trouble. The sound fore by any State to any enterprise of this charmen of his own party in the South, have been acter unable to understand how the common good can be promoted or the constitutional rights of the of land (six hund:ed and forty acres each) for slaveholder better secured or maintained by the election of an ultra Freesoiler-a man who would rather see the Ohio run blood than Kansas admitted as a slave State," than by the triumph of a States Rights Democrat, as Gov. pleted. When the road passes through any Willard is known to be. There are bundreds and thousands of men connected with the editor's party in the South who have no sympathy with Abolitionism in any shape whatever, and who would not soil their hands with it, even to tions fronting one mile on the road; and to these accomplish the darling object of the Journalthe defeat of Mr. Buchanan. They are as true by virtue of the certificates issued to it, to cause as steel upon the great queetion involving the to be located, surveyed and patented, for the rights of the Sonth, and look with loathing up- use of the company, each alternate section, such on any creature who has the taint or smell of section embracing a tract of land fronting one Abolitionism upon his garments. And, if, du- mile on the road, pursning an equal width; and ring the period intervening between this traitor- the remaining sections shall continue the properous step of the Journal, and the November electry of the State until disposed of by the Legislation, they did not give expression to the deep indignation which his infamous conduct had inspired in their bosoms, it was because they felt the weakness of their Presidential ticket, and knew how essential to its success was the perfect harmony and unity of all the elements of the opposition to the Democracy. But the policy which then prompted a silent or seeming assent, no longer exists, and the editor finds that the ablest, if not the best men of his own party have taken usue with him, and openly repudiate his paper as no fit exponent of tucky. Sarcely has the lion. Humphrey Marshall thundered forth his pronunciamento in the halls of Congress, knocking the organ-grinder from his tripod, and vindicating his constituency from the implied charge of sympathizing and affiliating with Freesoilers, than the editor finds to his mortification that the "nineteen-twentieths of the American party" whom he claimed as endorsers of his abolition advice to the Indiana brethern, are, probably, siding with the Congress, man and repudiating the Journal. It is this terrible rebuke which an outraged people are administering, that makes the editor so furious in his issue of yesterday. It is a realization of that retribut tive justice which a wronged and betraved community is visiting upon his peculant shoulders, that makes him rant, and fume, and swear so lustily in his leading editorials of late. It is a fearful consciousness of the deep and terrible guirt which weighs like a nightmare upon his soul, that makes him howl as a madman, and throw his poisoned saliva at the faces of honest men. It is the frightful bodements of the traitor who stands convicted and condemned to the gibbet, that makes his paper the vehicle of such convulsive throes -of such harmless abuse and denunciation. Right well can the Democracycan Governor Willard-can the Democratic papers, afford to submit, without any disturbance of their equinimity, to the abuse and vilification of such a creature. Like the arrows which the Parthians aimed at the moon, his frothy projectiles will fall short of the mark,

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD .-- This stupendous enminds of the American people. Everywhere the s speaking out upon the subject. There is a unanimity of sentiment both in the Northern and the Southern States which has rarely ever attended any undertaking of such gigantic preportions. Though the route deemed most practicable (if indeed it is not the only practicable one) passes through the Southern portion of the confederacy, it nevertheless meets the views of the Northern people, and has many of its warmest friends and advocates in that section of the Union. The most influential papers there have endorsed its practicability and recommend it to the exruest consideration of the American public. Amongst others, the Cincinnati Enquirer, in its issue of the 4th inst., details at some length the modus of its construction, and adduces some substantial reasons why the road must and will

While, says that paper, various plans for the construction of the great railroad, to connect the Atlantic and Pacific, are being discussed in the papers and in the committees and lobbies of Congress, an energetic company has already taken and occupied the field, under auspices and with advantages, which, in our opinion, exclude all competition. Engineers, who have surveyed the vast desert which divides our Western from our Fastern possessions, are greatly divided on the question of the practicability of any Northern route across this vast and inhospitable region. Some deny positively that any road can be built in that direction; that it is scarcely passable by foot and mule travelers; and that, even if a road could be built, it would be greatly impeded, if not rendered useless, by the severity of the climate and the accumulations of snow. Colonel Benton's idea of following the buffalo-track has served to illustrate, as well as to burlesque, a scheme, of which Colonel Fremont came near being a victim, and to which several valuable lives were sacrificed.

So much as to a route across the State of Missouri, or any other line north of the thirty-secenterprise involving an unparalleled degree of energy, power, and vast means, and a long period of time to accomplish it. Besides, it will need the aid of the Federal Government, to which there will ever be a powerful and bitter opposition. The people are in no temper or condition to wait patiently for a slow, donbtful, and stupendously gigantic plan of securing this connection. They begin already to chafe with discontent and vexation, at the burdens and obstructions to our only practicable modes of reaching our Pacific shores, which lie through foreign and nuhealthy regions, and are subject to many interruptions.

A road must, then, be begun. It must, too, be one of whose practicability there can be no

Such a scheme presents itself in the Southern have been smmitted from this title, as the prosouth, and more properly west than either.

Due west from a point opposite to Vicksburg, plurality of his fellow-citizens, and that the supreme court of the low stage of water. This road, before reaching Shreveport, strikes the boundary line of Texas about midway between Marshall—a flourishing town in Texas—and Shreveport, in Louisiana. This is the starting point of the Southern Pacific Railroad. It lies in a region of great fertility, but which, during long periods, is entirely cut off from market. Cotton bales are frequently hauled from these north-eastern counties of Texas to the Mississippi river, a disance of three or four handred miles, so that, when the consumed half its value in the court of the successor will be regularly elected by the people.

We have very little idea upon whom His Honor will confer this appointment. We suppose, however, he will consult, somewhat, the on between the softice was filled. At that election our old freined C. Wisely, then, does Texas, with her vast reonrees, her debts all paid, her millions of dol- to Arkansas. lars of surplus, and her ten millions of lands of natchless fertility, come forward with the most beral and bountiful hands to shower benefits and gifts upon the individuals who will secure them this great boon, and thus supply the only hig'us which Nature left in her condition. Such terms and inducements were never offered be-

Now the parallel of thirty-two, the line of the Sonthern Pacific, passes through the most fertile and beantiful part of the United States. With a much milder climate, these lands are quite as good as those of Illinois. They are equally well adapted for planting and farming. There is no pi on the 23d inst. for killing their overseer, and finer cotton region. It is equally suitable for grains; and, as for grazing, we need only state one fact to show the great resources of the country for cattle raising, that it has been tound quite a good business to drive cattle from this region the sentiments of the American party of Ken- to Chicago, where they are actually shipped for New York.

Despite the terrible drawback of an entire want of accommodations and means of transporation, this country is rapidly settling up with an active and enterprising population. It is a level, beautiful region, one of almost perpetual verdure, without the dehilitating atmosphere of the Southern clime, with an abundance of timber and streams. It only needs to be perpetrated by railroad to make it the garden spot of the Union. When that is done by the Southern Pacific, its land donation will be an inexhaustable treasury. Texas, too, though her alternate sec tions of the same valuable domain, will add vastly to her own overflowing resources, and rear he rich results of her wise bounty.

Very sagaciously, then, does this young and enterprising State go one step further, and, apprecisting the difficulty of attracting capitalinto such grand enterprises, offers to this Company a oan of $6,000 per mile for every mile of road onstructed, whenever it has finished ten miles of the road and graded ten more. For this loan the Company is to pay six per cent., and the loan will be continued as long as the interest is paid. As soon, therefore, as ten miles of rail are laid $80,000, which, with its other resources, will be an acre, or $110,000. a very good sum to carry on the next ten miles.

The Company has promptly complied with all the conditions presented in their various acts. It is at work, constructing twenty-five miles of the road, which will be completed within the time required by more than a year. It has also terprise is rapidly becoming a fixed fact in the engineers actively engaged in surveying the whole route; indeed, a strong party is already employed in the new Territory of Arezona, or A house was consumed by fire, and two men the Gadsden purchase. Meantime, at the other end, from San Diego to Colorado City, at the head of the Gulf of Califormia, and in the southeastern corner of Caliornia, the surveys have been made and aid obtained, which renders that, the last link of the Pacific Road, quite an easy matter. There is no concern about that section of the great work. California will see to that.

Then we have the intermediate space of four City, through the Gadsden passage. Along the the Treasury, and Jesse D. Bright to the Dethis being territory of the United States, the question of the right of the Federal Government to aid the construction of a railroad through it, resents itself in the least difficult and objectionble form. From the most authentic sources we have derived information of the most reliable ind, that the mineral resources of this country. long the proposed line, are sufficient, when ransportation can be secured, to pay all the exenses of the construction and maintenance of he road through this Territory. It is only thus that the large sum, given by the Government for this region, can ever be realized. How that aid f the Government can be given, we may at ome other time indicate; at present, we must be ontent with merely sketching some of the main eathres presented by what we regard the only racticable plan which has yet been presented, r compassing this great and cherished undertaking of all sections of our Union, and all classes of our people, by which our Pacific and Atlantic shores will be joined together in iron bands, that will be no greater in extent and expensiveness, than those which are already rewarding the enterprise of our people with incal. culable benefits. The distance fron Vicksburg to San Diego, on the Pacific shore, is about the ond parallel. If possible or practicable, it is an same as that from New York to New Orleans, which cities, even with the other means of safe and easy communication, will soon be placed in railroad communication by more than one route.

> Own's Horst.-We announced yesterday probable change in this house. Messrs. Smith, Horne & Co. have purchased it from Mr. Stealy, and it is now under their management. They are eminently capable of making it one of the most popular hotels in the West, and we predict for it great success under their auspices.

UTAH .- Judge Drummond's charge in the first U. S. District Court of Utah, against polygamy which has been pronounced not genuine is now generally acknowledged to be a fact. The law quoted by him is to be found in the revised statutes of the Territory, and the printer made a stand by them to the end. He is, therefore, en mistake in speaking of the revised statutes of the titled to their generous confidence, even in ad-

RUSSIAN WAR-MOZART HALL .- We have to remind onr readers that this exhibition will positively close on Saturday next: therefore we would advise them to make an early visit. The hall was crowded last night, and if the applause it received is to be taken as marks of pleasure it created, we are sure it was great. Throughout the whole the applance was great, but in the final scene it was tremendous.

New Firm .- It will be seen from a card in our advertising columns, that Mr. N. S. Long has associated with him Mr. S. M. Lemont, (late general freight agent of the Jeffersonville Railgeneral freight agent of the Jeffersonville Rail- guiding star, and which are so dear to every road,) in the steamboat and freight agency busi- Democrat throughout the broad expanse of our ness, &c., &c.

The Theater was filled to its utmost capacity last evening. Mr. W. J. Florence is one of the greatest delineators of Irish character now on the stage. Mrs. W. J. Florence is fast gaining favor with the patrons of the Drama in this city. These talented artistes have just returned from Europe, where they performed before Her Majesly, Queen Vic., and the Emperor Napoleon, and in all the principal Theaters of the Old | World with entire success. It has been some time since they appeared before the Louisville people and we hope they will meet with such enouragement as will induce them to come again. To-morrow night the play of Shandy Maguire will be performed, in which Mr. Florence will personate the principal part. "Mischievous ON Friday night last a Stone Martin Victor the owner can have by calling at this officing for this advertisement. Florence, is the afterpiece, in which she perso nates five characters and sings several songs.

THE PEAK FAMILY .- These excellent vocalists and instrumentalists gave their last entertainment in this city last evening, to an appreciative and enthusiastic audience. All those who have been the fortunate listeners to their sweet and varied musical strains, and with whom they have become decided friends, will regret that they leave ug so soon. They have fully sustained the reputation they have acquired throughout the country as musicians of the most superior talents, and justified the encomiums so lavishly bestowed npon them by the press. Their bell music possesses a peculiar charm, which immediately wins their hearers, and their ability and willingness to please, together with their great variety of vocalization and instrumental execution, makes Wednesday. Its notes are being bought at 40 one of the most amusing, novel, and instructive entertainments of the day. They leave us today for Nashville, and need no further comment Two negroes are to be hung in Mississipfrom us to ensure them success, which is justly due them. We hope to have a series of their unique Concerts on their retnrn North.

MR. BUCHANAN'S POLICY .- It is an entire mistake to assume that the policy of Mr. Buchapan as President is to be inferred from the opinions which may be expressed by any journal or by any individual. The following judicions and RAISINSpertinent remarks of the Lancaster Intelligencer, furnish a full and satisfactory answer to the comments of those journals which have fallen into this mistake:

[From the Lancaster Intelligencer.] Mr. Buchanan's Policy.—Some of our friends at Richmond, and in other parts of the South, seem to he unnecessarily excited in reference to what may or may not be the policy of the incoming Administration as it regards slavery, squat-ter sovereignty, &c. The speech of Senator Bigler, in which, by what we conceive to be a forced and unnatural construction of his language, he is represented as advocating heretical principles: and a recent article in the Pennsylvanian eulogistic of Col. Benton, are made the subject of an elaborate criticism in the Inquirer Tuesday last; and fears are entertained by the editors that Mr. Buchanan endorses these views of Senator Bigler and the Pennsylvanian.

Now, without assuming to speak for Mr. Buchanan, or to promulgate his views on the topics treated of in the Enquirer, we nevertheless venture to assert that Governor Bigler, and nobody else, is himself responsible for what he said on the floor of the Senate; and, further, that neither the Pennsylvanian nor any other There was a false alarm of fire about four new spaper, speaks by anthority of the President clock last evening. Our gallant fremen se- elect. Mr. Buchanan is now, what he has been their custom. After a healthy exercise of half states man of the Jefferson and Jackson school an hour the machines were taken home and and in his administration of the government will be actuated, we have not a doubt, by a determination to do equal and exact justice to every portion of the Union. His course of policy will know no North, no South, no East, no West. The Constitution will be his compass and his chart. By it, and it alone, will he seek to guide the ship of State; and of his skill as a pi nally aconainted with the man can have a soli tary doubt. The Enquirer may, therefore, well reiterate its expression of 'implicit confidence in the President elect.' This confidence, we venture to anticipate and predict, will not be sha-ken during the next Presidential term by any His course of policy, we doubt not will be alike satisfactory to his friends and the lovers of the Union in Virginia and Pennsylvania, in Georgia and Indians. But that policy has not yet been adumbrated, except in his enlorsement of the Cincinnati platform and in his letter accepting the nomination.

We, therefore, respectfully advise our Southern Democratic friends to keep cool. The Presiden elect has always stood by their constitutional rights when assailed by abolitionism of every hue and grade: and, we firmly believe, he will vance of his inauguration as the chief Magistrate of the Republic. Let them not permit the opinions of A, B, or C, who, we again aver, speak of their own responsibility, to weaken their faith in the integrity of the President elect. If Providence spares his life until the fourth of March next, he will then take the oath of office and enunciate the principles and policy which he in-tends to carry out in his administration, and when he does that we believe the Enquirer will be abundantly satisfied. So far as Senator Bigler is concerned, we know him to be a true hearted conservative Union-loving Democrat, who will stand by the constitution and the rights of the States in every emergency. He is a well tried and faithful Den ocratic statesman, and we have no fear that he will prove recreant, in word or deed, to the great principles which have always been his glorions Union. In connection with the foregoing, we have the approval of Mr. Buchanan in saying that the following extract from the Southside Democrat states correctly his position:

"As for Kansas, Mr. Buchanan has never ex-pressed an opinion either one way or the other, n favor of its coming in as a free or a slave State. He has prudently conceived that it is a matter with which he has nothing to do, and with which he does not mean to meddle. It is a question exclusively with the people of the Territory, with whom he is content to leave it fo solution. He will see to it that the principles of spirit, impartially, and without fear, favor, or HEAVY STORM-A TRAIN OF CARS BURGED IN THE SNOW.—A passenger gives us some items of his journey from Paris du'Chien, on the Mil-wankie and Mississippi Railroud, during the late heavy storm. His party left Prairie du Chien two weeks ago, and arrived the same night at Poscopel, 24 miles this side, being the first sta-tion on the railroad. The snow drifts were deep, and no trains could get away. Getting fair start on the shovelled track, and after two or three days delay, the train brought up in a deep drift, some six miles this side of Boscopel, and then commenced the work in earnest.

The Department of Public Instruction gener-

Mr. Pratt trusted that the subject would no now be considered. Many facts were involued in the decision of this case, and it was important that they be thoroughly understood. The Sena-tor from Georgia (Toombs) had intimated his ntention to submit a minority report, and he should like to see the arguments of both sides before proceeding in the discussion.

Mr. Toombs, after remarking that there was not a single controverted fact in the whofe case, said that the only difference in opinion relative to the matter, was based upon the application of the law to fac's admitted on all hands. So far as the views of the minority of the committee are concerned, he could express them as well verbally as in writing.

Mr. Bayard preferred that the subject should be laid over till to-morrow, as having heen ah-sent from the city, he had no opportunity to examine the question

Mr. Harlan said it should be remembered that he protest of the Senate of lowa had been beore the Senate nearly two years. All the memample time to investigate the subject, if they had chosen to do so. Another reason why it was desirable to have this question settled as soon as possible, was that the Legislature of Iowa was uow in session, having convened on the first Monday in December, and their term is limited by the Constitution to fifty days.

Mr. Butler was in favor of proceeding to the decision of the question forthwith. He stood in a position of utter indifference as regards the gentleman who was to be affected by the result and approached the subject solely on its merits. The government of lowa consisted of a Legislature, composed of a Senate and a House of Reg resentatives. Senators hold their term for a onger period than members of the House, and are fewer in number, but are recognized by the Constitution as a separate and distinct part of the Legislature. The House, being a more numerous body, in matters of elections must have a preponderating influence, and hence, con current action of the Senate was required. He ed British Minister to this country, and will stated the reasons which influenced the majority of the committee in coming to the conclusion that Mr. Harlan was not duly elected. These were, in brief, that the Senate, as a body did not attend that meeting in joint convention at which Mr. Harlan was elected, and their teller was not there, as required by law. The Senate had adjourned over and there was no Senate in session at the time. A majority of the Senators were present in their individual capacity, but the Senate, as a body, was not there. The President of the Senate, the regular presiding officer of the Joint Convention, was elected President pro. tem. These Irregularities vitiated the election.

Mr. Toombs contended that the Legislature of lowa was composed of members of the Senate and Honse, and upon those individuals devolved the constitutional duty of electing a Senator of the United States, in the manner prescribed by the constitution of Iowa. The joint convention consisted of members who composed the two legislative bodies and as soon as they met in joint convention the distinction heretofore existing between them as members of different hranches was obliterated. Their names were arranged in alphabetical order on one list, hence absence or refusal to participate in the proceedings on the part of any members, less than a majority of the whole number of members composing the joint convention, could not invalidate the doings of the convention. He thought the fundamental and factious conduct of those Sen ators in Iowa, who sought to defeat the election and frustrate the will of the people of lowa ought to be condemned by this hody and by the entire

Mr. Benjamin wished to know whether it was competent for one branch of a State Legislature to elect a Senator to Congress. The Constitu-tion of the United States declares that Senators shall be chosen by the State Legislatures, and the State Legislatures consist of two branches, m which it follows that the Constitu quires that Senators should be elected by those two branches conjointly.

Mr. Toombs replied that such a construction of the Constitution would render invalid the those best acquainted with Henry Clay, to be the most election of a great many Senators had held their seats against the majority of one branch of their State Legislatures.

Mr Pugh argued in support of the constitutionality of Mr. Harlan's election, and concurred in the views expressed by Mr. Toombs. Mr. Geyer, agreeing with the majority of the Judiciary Committee, believed the election of Mr. Harlan unconstitutional.

Mr. Bayard next obtained the floor.

Mr. Fish introduced a bill making appropria-tions for the removal of Diamond reef and Coenties reef in New York harbor. Senate adjourned. The State House festival to come off this evening is to be the grandest affair that has even taken place in the State. 15,000 tickets have been issued, and nearly all applied for. Large rooms are fitted up for dressing rooms—four for ladies and four for gentlemen—attached to each of which is a room fitted up with shelves and numbers to correspond with those given to owners of articles left in charge of the servants.

The executive committee took charge of the State Honse yesterday noon, and have control of it until to-morrow morning.
